

Elizabeth Neumann, M.A., BCaBA
Professional Services Coordinator

Elizabeth Neumann, M.A., BCaBA is a Board Certified Assistant Behavior Analyst. She taught in public schools for twelve years, working with students on the autism spectrum in both general and special education settings. She has also worked with children with a wide range of abilities as an in-home behavior therapist. As Professional Services Coordinator of Autism New Jersey, she provides requested trainings to schools and agencies throughout the state. She is a member of the New Jersey State Team for the CDC's Act Early Campaign and assisted in the creation of the Developmental Disabilities Awareness Training for New Jersey Emergency Responders. Ms. Neumann is currently working on an initiative to train public school administrators.