Serving Children with Autism Spectrum Disorders

About this Directory

Autism New Jersey maintains this directory as a service to families, school districts and other professionals. The information listed was provided by each school, and their inclusion in this directory should not be considered an endorsement by Autism New Jersey.

We do not claim to have personal knowledge of any of the schools, and we do not evaluate an individual school's interpretation or implementation of its educational methodologies.

We urge you to make independent judgment when selecting a school program.

Please remember that any program chosen for a child with an autism spectrum disorder should be based on the child's Individualized Education Program (IEP). Parents and child study team members should work together to develop the child's IEP and then select the most appropriate program based on the completed IEP.

How to Use this Directory

Schools are listed by county, and grouped by type: public and private. Each listing includes the length of the school year and ages served (ESY = Extended School Year).

When provided to us, we also include if the school offers the following services: Home Program, Parent Training, Parent Support Group, and After School Program.

Please contact the school directly for more specific information.

Please contact us if you are aware of schools that are not listed here.

About Autism New Jersey

Autism New Jersey is New Jersey's leading advocacy and information network for parents of individuals with autism spectrum disorders (ASDs) and the professionals who support them.

New Jersey's Autism Resource

Autism New Jersey diligently works to help improve the lives of individuals with autism, and provide their families with competent and compassionate support. Autism New Jersey is wholly committed to sharing its expertise in autism-related topics with all state residents. Families of young or adult children affected by autism, the professionals who support them, legislators and government officials, media and concerned state residents turn to Autism New Jersey on a daily basis for information, assistance, support, guidance, and education.

We are grounded in science, strengthened by knowledge, and devoted to creating a society of compassion and inclusion for all those touched by autism.
