

Transition Planning Workshop

COME AND LEARN HOW TO PLAN FOR YOUR YOUNG ADULT!

Transition planning for children age 14 and over is an integral part of preparing your young adult to be independent after leaving the school setting. Now is the time to collaborate with your district to plan for your child's life after school. Federal and state law require that school districts deliver transitional services to children during their teenage years. These free seminars will educate you about what an IEP should include when planning for transition, and who is involved in this process. Content is aimed toward parents of children ages 12-21.
