Working with Individuals with Autism Spectrum Disorders

Become more successful in your work with individuals on the spectrum through a clearer understanding of ASDs and practical strategies derived from what we know about their learning styles. Special or general education teachers, therapists, child study team members, administrators, day care staff, adult vocational or residential staff should all learn specific approaches to begin right away as well as resources for further learning. While this workshop is tailored to professionals, parents are also welcome to attend.

Working with Individuals August 2010 Registration Form

Registration is on a first-come, first-served basis by mail, fax, or online. Autism New Jersey accepts checks, credit cards, and purchase orders. If your agency requires several weeks to process a purchase order, submit your registration form with the purchase order number in order to reserve a seat. If the purchase order is not received by the day before the event, your registration will be cancelled. Please include the name of the registrant on all purchase orders. A confirmation letter and directions will be e-mailed to all registered participants. Refunds will only be given for cancellations we receive two weeks before the event. After that, substitutions for original registrants are accepted, but no refunds will be given for any reason. Credit may be transferred to a future workshop only if Autism New Jersey reschedules the event. CEUs will be available from the Department of Education as well as general attendance certificates. Participants are responsible for maintaining their professional development certificates as Autism New Jersey will not issue replacements. We are happy to provide these credits at no additional charge. For more information, please contact Vanessa Falcon at 609.588.8200, ext. 43, or vfalcon@autismnj.org.
